ATTACHMENT III- PROBABLE CAUSE AFFIDAVIT:

The Affiant swears to the following facts to establish probable cause for the issuance of a search warrant:

I, the undersigned Special Agent (SA) K.S. Kearney, am a sworn law enforcement officer with over seven years of experience. Throughout my career, I have served in various roles including a Probation/Parole Officer with the North Carolina Department of Community Corrections and a Special Agent with the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation (NCSBI). I currently serve as a Special Agent in the NCSBI's Professional Standards Unit, where I am responsible for conducting criminal investigations involving violations of both federal and North Carolina state law. My professional development includes more than 350 hours of specialized training in areas such as crime scene processing, interview and interrogation, homicide investigations, cellular phone exploitation, financial crimes investigations, and internal affairs. I am a graduate of the Basic Law Enforcement Training Program at Vance-Granville Community College and the NCSBI Special Agent Academy. I also hold a bachelor's degree from North Carolina Central University. Additionally, I have completed course work through the North Carolina Justice Academy.

The information received during the course of this investigation included in this affidavit is believed to be true and accurate by SA K. Kearney.

In August of 2024, the North Carolina State Ethics Commission (Ethics Commission), the North Carolina Secretary of State's Office, the Wake County District Attorney's Office and several other entities received copies of a complaint alleging violations of the lobbying and ethics laws of the State as well as other statutory provisions pertaining to charitable organizations by the non-profit 501(c)(4) Greater Carolina, Inc. The Ethics Commission initiated an inquiry into these allegations.

The results of the Ethics Commission's inquiry were presented to the Wake County District Attorney who, based on the information presented, requested the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation to initiate a criminal investigation regarding allegations that people associated with Greater Carolina engaged in conduct which may constitute a crime. A part of the investigation involved an analysis of financial records related to deposit and credit accounts identified as used by members of the Greater Carolina Organization.

In 2018, Clark Riemer incorporated Greater Carolina as a not-for-profit corporation organized pursuant to Section 50l(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. Former North Carolina representative Jason Saine was involved in the conception of the idea to create Greater Carolina. Jason Saine was a member of the North Carolina House of Representatives who represented District 97 from 2011 until he left office on approximately November 5, 2024. As a 501(c)(4) organization, Greater Carolina raised money to spend on issue advocacy and in supporting various candidates. From 2018 to 2024, the amount of money raised annually by Greater Carolina, Inc. grew substantially from approximately $60,000 its first year to more than $800,000 in 2023 and more than $500,000 in 2024 according to the Internal Revenue Service Form 990 "Return of Organization: Exempt from Income Tax" filings submitted by Greater Carolina, Inc. Greater Carolina described itself as a 50 I (c)(4) coalition of forward thinking, pro-free market conservative leaders from across Carolina dedicated to ensuring a strong economic future for ALL of North Carolina.

According to organizational documents filed with the North Carolina Secretary of State's Office on August 21, 2018, Greater Carolina, Inc., is organized as a social welfare organization under Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 with the purpose of engaging in public policy advocacy and any other lawful act. The Articles of Incorporation expressly provided that "no part of the net earnings of the Corporation shall inure to the benefit of, or be distributable to any director or officer…or any other private person."

SA Kearney interviewed Anna Scott Marsha Barefoot and Sarah Newby who indicated they were contracted with by the board of Greater Carolina to organize events, raise funds, and solicit donors for the benefit of the organization. From 2021 to 2022, Barefoot was responsible for organizing several events for Greater Carolina, managing donors and sponsors of the organization, and assisting with creating donor membership levels, to include the cost, and the benefits of each level. From 2023 to 2024, Newby was responsible for planning and coordinating events, soliciting donors and sponsors, and completing tasks assigned to her specifically by the board members of Greater Carolina. Both indicated either David Coble and/or Madeline Keeter were their point of contact for funding fundraising efforts and were authorized users of an American Express credit card.

On April 13, 2026, SA Kearney interviewed Richard Earl Bengel IV, board member of Greater Carolina, who explained Greater Carolina was in support of pro-entrepreneurial conservative causes and a proponent for better policies for business. Bengel understood that a 501(c)(4) non-profit organization had to have an educational component. The focus of the education for Greater Carolina, during Bengel's tenure, was educating lobbyists, legislators, and the public on sport betting. Greater Carolina's process to educate included the initial research on the topic, create a study and presentations. Bengel understood the organization's efforts were funded through fundraising events like symposiums. According to Bengel, the organization invited experts on the topic to talk to attendees who paid admission to Greater Carolina during fundraiser events. Additionally, funds were raised by a company sponsoring the fundraising event and received exposure, like logo on a backdrop or their mention on the invitation. Bengel understood that the organization may have also raised funds through donations, including the donation link on the Greater Carolina website.

On Monday, May 26, 2026, Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) W. D. Marsh conducted online research regarding the website for Greater Carolina, INC. The known website for Greater Carolina was greatercarolina.com.

ASAC Marsh conducted the following research regarding this website:

- Directly accessing this website indicated the website was no longer active and did not provide pages related to Greater Carolina.
- A search for the website greatercarolina.com on the Internet Archive website archive.org indicated the active website was last archived on October 13, 2025.
- The archived website included the main page and four links at the top right of the main page which were titled "Our Mission," "Policy," "Contact Us," and "Donate."
- The first three links had been archived and were accessible through the archived page. The Donate link had not been archived; however, the link URL was available.

On the archived website for the "Our Mission" page, Greater Carolina published their mission as, "To ensure North Carolina embraces the policies necessary to maintain and support our status as one of the best states in the nation for business and free enterprise. For the future economic success and vitality of our state, it is crucial that our tax and regulatory systems keep pace with entrepreneurship and new technology by promoting economic growth and innovation."

On the archived website for the "Policy" page, Greater Carolina published, "Greater Carolina Supports Policies that…Ensure economic vitality by maintaining a pro-growth tax structure that allows North Carolina taxpayers to keep more of what they earn. Support risk-taking and entrepreneurship by lowering unnecessary regulatory hurdles. Use responsible economic development tools to bring new businesses and jobs to North Carolina. Encourage a strong workforce by embracing innovative student centered education policies."

According to Greater Carolina's federal 990 tax filings, Apex Business Consulting LLC was listed as the tax preparer for years 2022, 2023, and 2024. A review of the federal 990 tax filings revealed the following:

- According to the 2022 990 tax filing, Greater Carolina reported their total revenue for the current year was $495,185, earned through contributions, gifts, and grants. Their expenses for the taxed year included: $347,030 for Education expenses, $105,824 for Contractor expenses, $15,556 for office expenses, $35,982 for travel expenses, and $10,499 for meal expenses.
- According to the 2023 990 tax filing, Greater Carolina reported their total revenue for the current year was $834,196, earned through contributions, gifts, and grants. Their expenses for the taxed year included: $321,515 for Education expenses, $153,430 for Contractor expenses, $10,523 for office expenses, $19,518 for travel expenses, and $64,576 for meal expenses.
- According to the 2024 990 tax filing, Greater Carolina reported their total revenue for the current year was $568,404, earned through contributions, gifts, and grants. Their expenses for the taxed year included: $531,765 for Education expenses, $125,031 for Contractor expenses, $2,818 for office expenses, $29,776, for travel expenses, and $41,423 for meals expenses.

On February 15, 2026, SA K. Kearney applied for a search warrant which was issued by Superior Court Judge S. A. B. Cole. The search warrant directed Fidelity Bank to disclose the financial records related to the deposit accounts of Greater Carolina. A review of those records revealed the Greater Carolina Fidelity Bank account paid an approximate total of $863,251.70 to American Express from January 1, 2022, until the present day. Those records led SA Kearney to apply for a search warrant directing American Express to disclose financial records associated with the credit account for Greater Carolina. That search warrant was issued by Superior Court Judge P. Ridgeway on March 26, 2026.

The records from Fidelity Bank, regarding the credit account from Greater Carolina were received on February 17, 2026. SA K. Kearney reviewed these records and noted the following information:

- The application for this credit account was made by David H Coble on October 19, 2021. The applicant listed on the application was Greater Carolina, Inc., as the business profile.
- David Coble was listed as the Treasurer of Greater Carolina.
- The business type was indicated as "Non-Profit."
- The application listed the tax identification number as [redacted], which was the federal tax identification number for Greater Carolina Inc.
- The application requested David H. Coble and Madeline Keeter to be issued individual credit cards to be consolidated on the business's billing statement.
- The organization was approved for a $25,000 credit limit, per authorized user, from Fidelity Bank on November 24, 2021.

During the review of the Fidelity credit card purchase records of a purchase charge of $10,981.14 to "ATLANTA TOP GOLF F&B ATLANTA GA" on August 2, 2022. Top Golf is a sports entertainment complex that combines a gamified driving range experience with a full-service restaurant and bar. There are three (3) Top Golf locations since 2021. The purchases were made using the Fidelity Bank credit card assigned to David Coble.

The records from American Express, regarding the credit account from Greater Carolina, were received on May 5, 2026. SA K. Kearney reviewed these records and noted the following information:

- The application for this credit account was made by David H Coble on August 2, 2022. Coble listed his employment as the Treasurer for Greater Carolina Inc.
- The business type was indicated as "Service."
- The application listed the tax identification number as [redacted] which was the federal tax identification number for Greater Carolina Inc.
- The additional card member information listed Madeline Keeter, who had been identified as the Executive Director of Greater Carolina Inc.
- American Express issued individual credit card numbers to David Coble and Madeline Keeter. At some point during the life of the account, David Coble and Madeline Keeter were issued new credit card numbers under their name for this account.

During the review of the American Express statements and purchase records showed a charge of $12,027.00 to the Carolina Panthers on November 13, 2023. Additionally, on July 9, 2024, $14,427.00 was made to the Carolina Panthers. The Carolina Panthers are a professional American football team based in Charlotte, North Carolina. The team is a part of the National Football League as a member of the NFC South. The purchase was made using the American Express credit card assigned to David Coble.

On July 2, 2026, SA K. Kearney applied for a search warrant which was issued by Superior Court Judge S. A. B. Cole. The search warrant directed Apex Business Consulting to disclose the records related to any accounts, and information, related to the preparation of tax returns for Greater Carolina.

The return of the search warrant included an email correspondence from Apex Business Consulting indicating for tax years 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, and 2025, the scope of Apex Business Consulting's engagement with Greater Carolina was limited solely to the preparation of tax returns and preparing the Form 990 based on information provided by Greater Carolina. Apex Business Consulting included in the email correspondence that on May 2, 2026, David Coble contacted Apex Business Consulting, stating that he was unsure whether the 2025 books were accurate and asked Apex Business Consulting to review them. On May 18, 2026, Apex Business Consulting communicated to David Coble that there appeared to be a significant issue with the 2025 books and that the issue appeared to stem from prior years. On June 5, 2026, Apex Business Consulting communicated to David Coble that, as a result of their review, the 2023, 2024, and 2025 tax returns would need to be amended. The primary issue stemmed from accounts that had not been properly reconciled, and many transactions had not been categorized. David Coble categorized the previously uncategorized transactions resulting in the updated financial statements reflecting a balance of $34,274.16 due from officer.

David Coble determined which transactions should be treated as his personal expenditures to be repaid to Greater Carolina from his admitted inadvertent usage of Greater Carolina's card to pay for personal items. David Coble stated that he repaid Greater Carolina in 2026. David Coble additionally requested Apex Business Consulting to amended the tax returns based on the updated financial statements to which they declined.

On July 29, 2026, Special Agents interviewed owners of Apex Business Consulting. Apex Business Consulting was the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) who provided tax preparation services for David Coble, on behalf of Greater Carolina Incorporated. Apex Business Consulting prepared the taxes for Greater Carolina for fiscal year 2021 through 2025. Clients who solely requested tax filing preparation services were responsible for categorizing their own expenses and providing those categories to the CPA to prepare the federal tax return. Coble identified himself as either the "Director" or a board member of Greater Carolina and was the primary point of contact for the organization to Apex Business Consulting. Coble provided a Statement of Activity and Statement of Financial Position for each fiscal year, containing overall categorized totals for Greater Carolina's general ledger. Apex Business Consulting produced a copy of the federal tax return and provided it to Coble for approval before filing.

In May 2026, Coble contacted Apex Business Consulting and stated that there may have been an error with the tax filings. Coble provided copies of Greater Carolina's bank records, credit card records, and access to Greater Carolina's QuickBooks account. After reconciling the general ledger, Apex Business Consulting notified Coble that there were transactions that had not been labeled or categorized and the 2023, 2024, and 20025, tax returns would need to be amended. Coble categorized the unlabeled transactions which then showed approximately $30,000 of personal transactions made by Coble. According to email correspondence between Coble and Apex Business Consulting, in June 2026, Coble notified Apex Business Consulting that he repaid the personal transactions that he used the Greater Carolina card for personal purchases.

As described in the Internal Revenue Cord (IRC) section a 501(c)(4) organization must not be organized for profit and must be operated exclusively to promote social welfare. The earnings of a section 501(c)(4) organization may not inure to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual. To operate exclusively to promote social welfare, an organization must operate primarily to further the common good and general welfare of the people of the community.

Based on the interview with the owners of Apex Business Consulting, who acted as the contracted tax preparer for Greater Carolina, it is believed Coble categorized the line-item transactions within the QuickBooks account for Greater Carolina. In the business records provided Apex Business Consulting indicated some of the types of categorizations used by Coble included "Education Expenses," "Donation," "Education Expense Reimbursement," "Meals & Entertainment," and "Travel." The information contained in this QuickBooks account may also include line-item transactions which Coble characterized as personal transactions after Apex Business Consulting identified unlabeled and uncategorized transactions.

Based on the information in this affidavit, your affiant believes there is probable cause to believe that information contained in the records held by Intuit Corp. as described in the sections "Places to be searched" and "Items to be Seized" may be evidence of conduct and activities constituting the crime of Embezzlement of property received by virtue of office or employment.
